Jonah Habakkuk & Malachi

Have you ever been troubled about the relationship between God's love and his justice? How should a Christian's lifestyle relate to the people of God around him? How much control can we expect to have over our own lives? How do we deal with the shock of realizing that God's perspective and ours do not agree? These are some of the questions and issues these three prophets face squarely. In 12 inductive studies your group will see how God confronts his prophet and through them, us, with the holiness of his character, the breadth of his perspective and love, and the kind of responsible living he desires for his people.

The mystery of Mother
Mary's House in Ephesus (by Fr. Elie
Remy Thierry)

The mystery of (Mother Mary's House) in Ephesus is part of a much greater mystery; that of the place where Mary lived after the death and ascension of her Son, Jesus. The aim of this booklet is not to undertake an exhaustive study of the presence of Mary, but merely to show from the Bible and from ecclesiastical writings of the 1st-6th centuries, that Mary and John lived in Ephesus. Deliberately leaving aside the 7th century theory that Mary died in Jerusalem, the story here tells of the discovery of the house-chapel in the 19th century, adding little information about archaeology, pilgrimages and the attitude of the ecclesiastical hierarchy.

MATRIMONY (MARRIAGE)

301.6 / CHR
St John Chrysostom on marriage and family life (by St John Chrysostom)

Inspired by the epistles to the Corinthians and Ephesians, St John discusses the reasons why God instituted marriage: primarily, he says, to promote the holiness of a husband and wife, and only secondarily to produce children. Using very positive terms, Chrysostom tells us that the pleasure of sex in marriage is good and gently reprimands those married people who think they are doing well to abstain from sexual relations. In addition he discusses of mutual responsibilities of wives and husbands.

Ages of the spiritual life (by Paul Evdokimov)

Surrounded as we are by spiritualities of all kinds- Native American, Buddhist, Sufi, etc. Evdokimov offers us the spirituality of the Great tradition of the church, but refreshingly new, rooted in the bible and liturgy whose models are the desert fathers and mothers of the monastics. Emphasises the interiorised monasticism of the laity.

The Desert Fathers Sayings of the Early Christian Monks (by Desert Fathers)

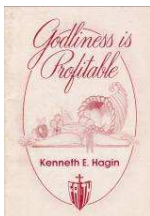

The desert fathers provided the inspiration for Christian spirituality throughout the Middle Ages and Beyond. The men and women who first embraced the life of solitude in the deserts of Egypt, Palestine and Syria were seldom clerics or scholars. Yet these uneducated peasants, shepherds, itinerant traders, former slaves and prostitutes soon attracted so many followers they were said to have turned the desert into a city.

Daily Readings with the Desert Fathers (by the Desert Fathers)

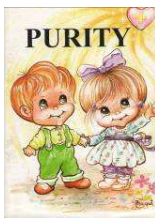

The way of life of the fourth-century Desert Fathers, with its emphasis on solitude, silence and unceasing prayer, has inspired many modern spiritual writers, including Henri J. M. Nouwen, Charles de Foucauld and Carlo Carretto,. What is its fascination? Why have these Fathers, whose lifestyle is so very different from ours, had so much to say, not only to monks and nuns but also to lay people.
